Mahani Teave
Classical Pianist from Rapa Nui (Easter Island)
Co-founder of the NGO Toki

Music TRANSFORMED her and inspired her to transform others. The grief and longing of a girl were transformed 20 years later in a labor of love, in union with other young Rapa Nui dreamers.

Art and Literature, an Inspiration for Transformations

Transformations occur in relationships. These can be social, between humans and nature, between culture and technology, between development models and subjective dynamics, between formal and factual powers.

Scholarships

We are happy to share with you that with the help of our sponsors and through a rigorous and transparent evaluation process, we were able to award 15 scholarship to participants from different countries and organizations.

We believe that this is not only an opportunity for them to participate in the Conference, but also for the Conference to include their valuable participation. The scholarship will help them cover costs associated with their participation in the conference, such as registration, flights, and accommodation.
